

The Progressive Policy Institute, Instituto Chileno de Derecho y Tecnologías, and Start-up Chile invite you to:

"The App Economy in Chile"

Tuesday, April 24, 2018
10:30 AM – 12:30 PM

The Red Room, Universidad Central de Chile
Lord Cochrane 417
Santiago, Chile

The Progressive Policy Institute (PPI), a Washington, D.C.-based think-tank, the Instituto Chileno de Derecho y Tecnologías, and Start-up Chile, would like to invite you to a panel discussion on Tuesday, April 24th at 10:30 am. The discussion will feature industry experts in mobile app development & PPI Chief Economist Michael Mandel. A Q&A session with audience members will follow the panel.

PPI will unveil a new study measuring the Chilean App Economy as a source of growth and job creation. PPI's goal is to highlight the potential future growth of the Chile's App Economy and learn more about government policies that foster digital innovation and the challenges entrepreneurs, startups, and companies face in growing and scaling their businesses in Chile's IT sector.

RSVP below or send to Jana Plat at jplat@ppionline.org.

---

RSVP HERE